1. Create your account on IEEE website or sign in if you already have an IEEE account

2. Sign in and click on your name in the top-right corner of the IEEE main page

3. Select Profile → Professional and Education Information, then add your professional and/or education backgrounds

4. Go back to the main page
5. Select Membership → Join an IEEE Society

6. Search “IEEE Information Theory Society Membership” in the search bar, then select IEEE Information Theory Society Membership (the third one on the picture, not the digital library one)

7. You will see two options of the ITSoC membership: preferred and essential, and also their current actual prices depending on the type of basic IEEE membership you hold. Not yet a basic member? Don’t worry, select the ITSoC membership option you want, and you will be asked to apply for your basic IEEE membership then
8. Below shows the comparison between the preferred option and the essential option. Basically the difference is that you get the printed magazines with the preferred membership. The prices shown here is different from previous two pictures, which is because there is a 50% discount thing going on (see the footnote on the picture)
